THE RAILROAD.

The prospects for the early completion of the road, are now very encouraging. The Engineers are at work, and we believe, the money is all subscribed or guaranteed. Last week we mentioned in brief what we believed to be the advantages of this railroad, to the people of Pennsvalley. That the road will be worth millions of dollars to the farmers and people of that lovely valley, is a question which no intelligent man has ever doubted. Because we were firmly convinced of the great benefits, to be derived from the completion of this road, we have always ardently, and to the best of our ability advocated it.

But there are people in Bellefonte, who contend that the building of a railroad through Pennsvalley will injure Bellefonte, injure the merchants, and decrease the value of real estate. With all due defference to the opinions of others, we hold that Bellefonte, her people and consequently all her business interests will be largely increased by the building of this road. We are asked how can it aid Bellefonte, when it will take from us all of the Pennsvalley trade? Stop! We will answer your question by asking another. How do you know that it will take from Bellefonte all the Pennsvalley trade? We answer that you do not know it at all. That it is mere assertion, without any foundation in fact, and contrary to the history and workings of all railroads, and directly the opposite of all the teachings of political economy on the subject.

We argue that the building of this road will aid Bellefonte first, because it opens up a better and a shorter route to Philadelphia, and to all of the Eastern Markets, and not only this, but gives us a through route from East to West, which must, in the nature of things, cheapen the price of freight, and thus, in connection with our great water-power, our lumber, coal and iron ore interests, induce men of capital to come amongst us and build up large and varied manufacturing establishments in the Borough, or in its immediate vicinity. Second: This will increase the population of the town, which will, to be brief, necessarily increase our business and enhance the value of every house and foot of land in the place.

The completion of this road will do more than this. It will increase the population of Pennsvalley at least 5,000 in the next five years. Hundreds of men will settle in that valley who will not engage in farming: but will be consumers of everything the farmers or merchants may have to sell. These men will prefer dealing in Bellefonte, because no merchant in the country will be able to compete with the merchants at the county seat. Why? They cannot sell so cheap and afford to live, because they will not sell so much. The doctrine that "a fast penny is better than a slow shilling," will then be fully realized, and the merchant who sells the greatest quantity of goods will be enabled to undersell any of his neighbors who do not do an equal amount of business.

We believe that there will not so many of those large, fine, fat teams come to Bellefonte from Pennsvalley as come now; but there will be ten, aye twenty men come from that valley, for every one that now visits our town. And they will come to buy goods to see their lawyer, and to sell their produce, just as they come now. In proof of this assertion take Bald Eagle Valley. Do not men come all the way from Hannah Furnace to Bellefonte, to purchase goods? Do they not come from Eagleville and Beech Creek? Why? Because they have learned that they can buy goods cheaper in Bellefonte than in Tyrone, Lock Haven, or in the country stores? By the way is this not a handsome tribute to the honesty, and integrity of our Bellefonte merchants, whether willingly or unwillingly paid by these men? While on this subject, just one question more. Do not fifty men come from the Bald Eagle valley to Bellefonte now, for every one that came before the B. E. Valley road was built? Has not the number of stores and business houses more than doubled? And has not the population of our Borough increased fifty per cent?

Now, we argue that the completion of the Pennsvalley road will do more, just in the proportion that she is wealthier than Bald Eagle Valley. Another argument to show what the completion of this road will do for Bellefonte, will be found in this; viz: The full developement of our coal interests in Burnside and Snow Shoe townships. The completion of this through route from East to West will give us an outlet for our coal, which we have never heretofore enjoyed, and will consequently increase the population of these two townships in ten years, until they will number more people than do Miles and Penn townships at the present time. These men will all be consumers, and will necessarily benefit Bellefonte, as well as the farmers of the entire county.

It will be easy for the observing mind to see that every argument adduced by us to show that the completion of this road will benefit Bellefonte, applies just as well to the interests of the whole County. What aids the County seat, and makes it richer and stronger, must, in the nature of things, work to the advantage of the whole county and every inhabitant thereof. A stranger visiting the County seat of any county, seeing it all life, noise, business, bustle, and beholds beautiful County buildings, magnificent churches, and splendid private residences, will naturally from these, form his estimate of the character, habits, wealth and morals of the people of the entire county. Again, if the building of this road increases the population of the county, in the ratio that we have stated, will it not benefit the whole county as much as it will Bellefonte? Will it not mutually and equally benefit both the town and the farmers? For while it will increase the business of our merchants; it makes a home market, which is always better than a foreign market for the farmer. In this, as we said last week, it will enhance the value of real estate throughout the entire county from 30 to 100 per cent.

People, merchants, mechanics, workingmen of Bellefonte, farmers of Centre county, now is your glorious opportunity. Put your shoulder to the wheel, and determine that nothing shall transpire to interfere with or prevent the early completion of this railroad.

ALAS FOR FRANCE!

The end draws near in France. Her trial has been great, her sufferings enormous, and her tribulation overwhelming. But there is a logic in the present condition of the French nation which seems to make its inevitable fate a just one in the sight of all men who regard justice with veneration. France of all other nations on the face of the globe, has been the boldest scoffer of Divine truth, a ridiculer of holy things, and a persecution butcher of holy men. We do not say there are no good men or pure women in France. She has had, and still has noble, exalted, and deep-thinking philosophers, whose devotion to the Bible is unalterable and has withstood all bitterness; but the French people, as a nation, have never done what is right, for religion. They have murdered the ministers who went among them to promulgate God's truth—they have slaughtered weak and defenseless Christians, making the streets of her cities run with the blood of the innocent, and she has set up a harlot to be worshipped as a deity. This is the France which has failed to withstand a rugged contest with a nation that as a people has always respected God and His laws. May we not hope that the France which will arise out of the ashes of the conquered France, will be people wholly devoted to practical, truthful, virtuous and religious affairs.

SENATOR SUMNER.

We print this day an excellent article from the Christian Union Edited by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, on the removal of Senator Sumner, from the committee on Foreign Relations. We know our readers will endorse every word of it. The only two papers in the State which feel disposed to get up an excitement on this question, are the Philadelphia Inquirer and Pittsburgh Commercial. We are of the opinion that the Republican party would fare better, if the Pittsburgh Commercial would go over entirely, (as it is now about half way) to the Democratic party. We are, and we know our people are, getting very tired of the Commercial's abuse of our best, purest and leading Republicans. We also know that the Commercial, is more sought after here by Democrats, than it is by Republicans.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Watchman Editors go into ecstacies last week, over the result of the New Hampshire election. By the apathy of the Republicans, the Democrats it appears elected their Governor and three Congressmen; but the Legislature still remains Republican by a handsome working majority. Now what does your gain amount to? Poor rebellious creatures it is so seldom they have anything to crow over, and by the wickedness and treasonable conduct of their party, it and they have been kept out of power so long that we do not complain of their exultation over New Hampshire.

But what about New Jersey, a Democratic State going Republican all over? Throughout the State of New Jersey an election was also held on the same day. This State gave the large Democratic majority of three thousand for Mr. Seymour at the Presidential election, but on Tuesday the 14th inst., the Republicans were successful throughout the State, securing nearly all the local offices, which will make the electoral vote of the State safe for General Grant in 1872. Why do you not publish this news for your readers? We carry New Jersey and make it a Republican State permanently. But you cannot hold New Hampshire. In 1872 side by side with Pennsylvania, New Jersey redeemed, and every other loyal State in the Union, she will cast her majority and the whole strength of the electoral vote for Gen. Grant.

Why do you not publish the great Republican gains at the Charter Elections in the State of New York? We dislike very much to make you feel badly; but we must, for your special benefit publish a few of them. Here they are. Please read them. So you see New York is preparing for the great battle for the perpetuation of Liberty, in 1872. It is useless, aye worse than folly for you to crow, or to endeavor to make your deluded follows feel that your party will come into power in the nation in 1872. This cannot be. The people who saved this Government will continue to rule it, until it is so strong, and well established, that the rebels and their sympathisers in treason cannot destroy it. Exeunt. Wipe out your record or hide your faces for shame.

AUBURN, March 7.—The election in this city to-day resulted in the success of Thomas Kirkpatrick. Republican, for Mayor, and the whole Republican city ticket, by a majority of about 600. The Republicans also elect their Supervisors in all the seven wards, and five out of the eight Aldermen.

POUGHKEEPSIE, March 7.—At the election to-day, Prof. H. G. Eastman, Republican, for Mayor, was elected by 900 majority, a Republican gain of 1102 since the previous mayoralty election.

ROCHESTER, March 7.—This city has gone Republican by a large majority. Briggs, the Republican candidate for Mayor, is elected, and nine Republican aldermen out of fourteen aldermen are elected, giving the Republicans a majority of eight in the next board.

The city has gone Republican on Supervisors with two wards to hear from. The Democrats have elected Williams, City Treasurer, and the Republicans claim the Justice of the Peace. The Republicans gain in both city and county boards, and have control of both.

HORNELLSVILLE, March 9.—The Republicans of Hornellsville acquitted themselves nobly yesterday at their charter election, electing their entire ticket by an average majority of one hundred.

For many years Hornellsville has been Democratic.

YONKERS, March 8.—Mr. Robert P. Getty, Republican, was yesterday elected President of this village for two years, by a majority of nearly 300 over William Patterson, Democrat.

The Board of Trustees has now three Democrats and three Republicans.

This is a Republican gain.

ITHACA CHARTER ELECTION.—The Republicans made a clean sweep on Tuesday last, electing the entire ticket by average majority of 292. This is better than ever the Republicans did before in that village. Binghamton did well, losing only an inspector of election. Elmira has done nobly considering her circumstances, but Ithaca has wiped out the defeat of last year by a complete victory.

ANOTHER VICTORY.—The Republicans of Geneva for the first time in ten years, have elected their town ticket.

The entire Republican ticket for town officers in five districts was elected by a handsome majority, with the exception of one or two Constables. Herman F. Fox, candidate for Collector, had a majority of 400. Mr. Post, Supervisor will have about 150.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY.—The Republicans gain one Supervisor, net, in Livingston County, giving them one majority in the Board. Last year the Democrats had a majority of one.

ULSTER COUNTY.—The Board of Supervisors stands, as far as heard from, 10 Republicans, 7 Democrats, and two towns to hear from. Last year, 15 Democrats, 4 Republicans.

THE PRESIDENT and MR. SUMNER.

In dealing with foreign nations the Constitution of the United States gives to the President the whole initiative power, but to the Senate the ratifying authority. The Committee of the Senate on Foreign Relations, always eminent, has been for ten years past pre-eminent, and the Chairman of that committee is scarcely second to any member of the Cabinet itself in honor and influence. Not only must he be a man of thorough and minute acquaintance with the affairs of all foreign nations, well versed in diplomatic history, catholic in feeling, cautious in judgment; but he must be able to maintain the exceedingly delicate position of one who stands between the Senate and the Executive, faithful to the Senatorial body, and yet in sympathy and in confidential relations with the President. In negotiating treaties the Executive, without tampering with the Senate, should be able to keep itself informed of the temper and opinions of that body which is to confirm or reject the negotiations initiated. The Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations on the one hand, and the Secretary of State on the other, are the Aaron and Hur that hold up the arms of the President.

Now it is not enough that the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations be honest, learned and patriotic.—He must have the gift of working harmoniously with other men. By his knowledge he is to guide his fellow Senators, and by his advice he is to aid the President. But if his disposition be of a cast so severe and inelastic, that he can conform to neither, but preaches to one and dictates to the other, all his good qualities will fail at just the point on which everything turns. A man whose consicence is in supreme sympathy with itself, may be an admirable expounder of morals; but to be a manager of affairs one must be in sympathy with men as well as with ideas.

The Senate of the United States have decided that the public good required that another should take Mr. Sumner's place as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. We presume this step was taken on purely administrative grounds. It was believed that at a critical period in the negotiations of affairs important to a degree seldom surpassed in the lifetime of a nation, the administration and the country could be better served by another man, who, though he would not surpass Mr. Sumner in noble integrity, nor approach him in learning, might have the capacity of being a better counselor, and a temper which should not offend the self-respect of those who were obliged to maintain confidential relations with him.

If Mr. Sumner had been turned out of his position on account of his life-long advocacy of liberty, or on account of his fidelity to great national interests, or because he honestly held views of policy differing from those of the President, or because he boldly stood up for the independence and dignity of the Senate against the machinations of a seductive and scheming Executive, every impartial man in the nation would have cried shame, and would have crowned him a martyr. But no such supposition is true. The whole truth, we suppose, lies in this, that, with all his eminent excellences, Mr. Sumner does not know how to yield anything to others. He does not know how to have a conscience supreme over himself without making it supreme over others. It is no news that the eminent Senator is a man of singular purity of life, of great disinterestedness, of irreproachable fidelity, of great kindness of heart, of unbounded industry, and of great learning. But it is less widely known that he make his own convictions the imperious laws of other men's, that he is apt to regard as personal foes all who do not accept his judgments, that he is a poor leader and a worse follower?

It was stated in the debate in the Senate, that Mr. Sumner was not in social relations either with the President, or with the Secretary of State. The charge was not denied, it was only met by saying that Mr. Sumner was at all times ready to confer with General Grant or Mr. Fish, on public affairs! Are these gentlemen likely to profit by the counsels of a man, who refuses to recognize them on one side of the council-room door, and only knows them officially on the other side? One may transact mere routine business with an arrogant office-holder, but in matters of counsel, requiring confidential consultations, it is preposterous to suppose that the President can be benefitted by one who looks down on General Grant with enduring anger, and imperiously refuses him a social recognition.

It may be said that the Chairman of Foreign Relations is an officer appointed by the Senate, that he has to do with the Senate, and not with the Executive. But practice has established vital relations between the Executive and the Committee of the Senate on Foreign Relations. That Committee stands at the point at which the Constitution makes the Executive and the Senate co-operative. Neither the President alone, nor the Senate alone, can make treaties with foreign nations. The Constitution ordains that in some things their action shall be co-ordinate. To put a personal enemy of the President at the head of the Committee through which the President is to be in sympathy with the Senate, is as if a gentleman should attach a galvanic battery to the bell-pull of his door, and then marvel that people preferred to transact their business with somebody else!

It is to be regretted that this action of the Senate took place, and still more that it was necessary to have it take place.—But the country will hold the President responsible for the settlement of the difficulties which have long threatened to embroil two great nations, that ought to be helpful to each other, and whose falling out would be hailed with delight by every despotic throne in Christendom. The anglo-Saxon race should stand together, over the whole world. In negotiating an honorable and lasting settlement of threatening difficulties, the President has a right to demand that he shall have the friendly help of the best men in the government, and no man whose temper will not permit him to speak to the President should consider it strange that another is put in his place who knows how to treat the President as a gentleman.

It is not wise to become alarmed at the excitement and clamor raised by this action of the Senate. The immediate topic for consideration is, What will be its effect upon the settlement of our difficulties with Great Britain? That is just now the business in hand.

It is our opinion that Mr. Sumner in his former position was constantly liable to endanger the peace of the two countries, and that his subsidence into the body of the Senate will be favorable to a just and amicable settlement. It is feared by some, and hoped by others, that a deadly wound has been given to the Republican party. If that party has so slender a hold upon the country that the change of a Chairman in a Senate Committee can destroy it, it is time that it be destroyed. But we have no such belief, and have no fears as to its danger. Mr. Wilson spoke with the exaggeration of excited feeling when he declared that ninety in a hundred in the party would be offended by this action. In fact Mr. Sumner is not a man to win personal influence among the common people, or to create popular enthusiasm toward himself. The men who will regret this history are the moral and thoughtful men of the party, and such men will revise their first impressions.—They will not, at any rate, abandon the party on such slender reasons as the dispossession of a trusted and honored man from a place of influence. This is one of those political whirlwinds to which our politics are subject, whose very violence will make it of short duration.

JOURNALISTIC.—The Lewistown Gazette one of the Spiciest Republican papers published in Central Pennsylvania came to us last week in Quarto form, and otherwise greatly improved. The Editors say they will continue to issue in that form, provided they can obtain two hundred additional subscribers. We hope they have already received that number. They should have four hundred more, and if the Republicans of that county would do their duty, it would not be long until they would have them. We wish you success gentlemen politically and financially.

SPEER'S WINE BITTERS.—E. R. Sisson, M. D., of Mew Bedford, Mass., says of Mr. Speer's Wines: "I have used Speer's wine to my entire satisfaction and believe it to be superior to all wines which have been so much used by the Profession." His Bitters are made of the wine made bitter by Peruvian Bark, Wild Cherry Bark, Calamus, Ginger, Snake Root, etc., in daily use by the Medical Faculty. Their base is his pure wine. The Penny—Its Antiquity.

The penny is a coin of vast antiquity. Its familiar copper shape, as may be generally known, is a comparatively modern alteration of the silver form in which it was known to our forefathers. In the curious, though whimsical little work called "An Essay on the Roman Denarius and English Silver Penny," it is shown to be derived form the Greek drachma, Aegina, which has been to a date of six hundred years, antecedent to the christian era. The drachma was afterward coined not only in Greece, but in Sicily, Syria, and Persia. The same coin under the name of denarius, was struck by the high consular families during the Roman republic, and by the emperors. The author of the work just quoted states that it must have been a denarius of Tiberius to which Christ drew the attention of the Jews when answering their questions as to the lawfulness of paying tribute. He also mentions very interesting circumstances respecting the aurces, or larger gold coin of the Roman emperors namely that in 685, under Justinian II., one was struck with the head of Christ, giving him the usual placid countenance, with a full round forehead, and ringlets hanging down each side of the face, and the beard parted below in the middle. From Rome the denarius was transferred to Saxon, England in 650 being there coined by the kings of Kent, Mercia, and the other departments of the Heptarchy.—Under the name of penny, and comparitively rudely executed, it was kept up by the Saxon, Spanish and Norman dynasties, in succession, and was the chief coin in circulation down to the reign of John. David I. is the first king of Scotland who is known to have issued the penny. In that kingdom it continued to be coined till the reign of James IV. In the course of its existence from Rome times to the present, the penny has been gradually reduced much in bulk. In the day of the republic, it weighed from two pennyweights thirteen grains. In the reign of the Emperor Trajan, it weighed barely two pennyweights two grains. The later emperors reduced it nearly one-half; and the earliest Saxon specimens weigh less than a pennyweight. The penny of Edward IV. was fifteen grains: that of Henry VIII., ten grains; and that of William IV., seven grains.

First Nail Mill In America.

Boonetown, (now Boopeton,) situated in Morris county, New Jersey, was the site of the first nail mill in America. We find the following facts in an article in the New York Evening Post:

Boonetown received its name from Thomas Boone, Governor of the Province of New Jersey in 1760. It grew yearly in strength and power. Col. Ogden whose family had owned the property before him, was the proprietor, and laid out what was considered large sums in adorning and beautifying his settlement. But the shipment of iron to England before it could be manufactured rankled in the Colonel's breast, and secretly, in 1770, he laid plans to build a mill for slitting or sawing out nails.

A trustworthy friend in England obtained drawings of a mill there, and with much caution the most skilled mechanics of Boonetown worked on the dangerous and illegal mill. To cover still further his designs, Colonel Ogden erected a flour mill on the side of a hill, to which, with much difficulty, he carried a sluice of water. As the little village contained only friends, the building below the flour mill of an extra story, to contain the slitting machine, soon became known in the vicinity, but was kept as a carefully concealed secret from the outside world.

After much difficulty and patience the machine was completed and a trial was had. Alas! at each stroke of the saw the teeth thereof flew into atoms, and the iron bars refused to become narrow slits from which would result nails.

Almost in despair a well tried workman was sent to England to find out at what point the mill was deficient, but, on his arrival, his speech proclaimed him to be an American, and, being caught examining a mill, he was arrested and confined three years in prison. He managed to escape, however, and returned to Boonetown, where he had been mourned as dead, bearing with him the valuable intelligence that the application of suet to the saw would enable it to work with ease. This being done, the nails were made in quantities, and soon become known through New Jersey, and even in New York.

THE LIFE-CLOCK.

There is a little mystic clock
No human eye hath seen,
That beateth on—and beateth on—
From morning until e'en.

And when the soul is wrapped in sleep,
All silent and alone,
It ticks and ticks the live-long night,
And never runneth down.

O! wondrous is the work of art,
Which knells the passing hour;
But art ne'er formed, nor mind conceived,
The Life-clock's magic power.

Not set in gold, nor decked with gems,
By wealth and pride possessed;
But rich, or poor, or high, or low,
Each bears it in his breast.

Such is the clock that measures life,
Of flesh and spirits blended;
And thus 'twill run within the breast,
Till that strange life is ended.

An Abomination, Truly.

The "Globe," a sprightly New York evening paper, indulges in just comments upon the style of dress affected by the respectable ladies at the great charity ball lately held in that city. When a woman's dress pleases "lascivious tastes," it outrages good taste, and encourages licentiousness. The decollete style of dress is displeasing to every man who remembers that he has a mother and sisters. And it is with ever-increasing wonder that such men regard the prevalence of the fashion. How modest women can be guilty of mistaking undress for full dress passes comprehension. Yet it is an indisputable fact that modest and pure-minded women do make that unaccountable mistake. In every public place there are men with all the outward marks of the gentlemen, who do not scruple to comment upon the appearance of ladies so attired. It may not be gentlemanly, but it is a fact. Women so criticised may be as indignant as they please because of such criticism. They may say that no gentleman will indulge in such comments; but men in what is rated good society, do indulge in loose remarks touching ladies in what is, by the rule of contraries called "full dress."

Reflect a moment. Were a gentleman to enter a drawing-room crowded with reputable people, without coat or vest, and with his shirt bosom unfastened and turned back a la Byron, how many women would make their adieux in short meter? Rather, how many would remain? We leave the women to settle that for themselves. It does not matter. The individual who should dare to do such a thing would be shown to the front door and flung into the street. If he did not awake in a hospital for the insane he might fairly congratulate himself as a lucky man. Yet such a dress for a gentleman does not more offend against good taste than what is known among ladies as "full dress." Not that we believe women regard such a style from the standpoint from which we write. On the contrary, we have reason to believe that nobody could suffer more pain than they would feel could they but see themselves apart from the glamour of fashion. But fashion is inexorable; and whoever originated the sentiment—"Better be out of the world than out of the fashion"—hit off a great fact very happily. Woman is falsely educated. She is taught that one of her first duties is to get herself up in attractive style. But in so arraying herself she need not add to the distempers of the age. Or if she does, and men of solid worth aid and abet her in it, let nobody deprecate the fearful moral falling away so noticeable even in the highest circles. How much more to woman's advantage, in all that goes to make up true womanliness, is that style which affects nothing, yet is at once recognized by every pure minded man as unassuming modesty? The nameless charms of deportment and conversation are all-sufficient to maintain female supremacy. The qualities of head and heart, not the clothes we wear, or lack, constitute the only claim any person, male or female, can successfully assert to the respect, esteem, admiration, and love, of any other individual or individuals of whatever sex or position.

Success and Reverse.

There is no denying that there are "royal roads" through existence for the upper classes; for them, at least, the highways are macadamized, swept and watered. They are surrounded not only by luxuries, but by pleasures, which at all events to the young, must have the zest of novelty. It seems to be the veriest fallacy to say that the lots in life are weighed out in equal balances; the difference is very great to the examiner—sad and very bitter to the sufferer. Before we talk of the equality of pain, which is in nine cases out of ten only a selfish and indolent excuse or neglect, let us contrast a high and low position together. On one side is protection, instruction and pleasure; on the other is neglect, ignorance and hardship. Here, wants are invented to become luxuries; there, "hunger swallows all in one low want." Among the rich, body and mind are cultivated with equal watchfulness; among the poor, the body is left to disease and to decrepitude, and the mind to void and destruction. We speak of the two extremes, but it is the worst ill of human existence that there should be such extremes. The child of the rich man sleeps in the silken cradle; his little cries are hushed by the nurse, whose only duty it is to watch the progress of that tiny frame; the least illness, and the physician bestows on the infant heir the knowledge of a life; for every single patient benefits by all his predecessors. The child becomes a boy; Eaton or Westminister, Oxford or Cambridge, have garnered for his sake the wisdom of centuries; he is launched into public life, and there are friends and connections on either hand as stepping stones in his way. He arrives at old age; the arm chair is ready; and the old port has been long in the cellars of his country house to share the strength with its master. He dies; his very coffin is comfortable; the very vault of his ancestors is sheltered; a funeral sermon is preached in his honor, and escutcheon and marble tablet do their best to preserve his memory. Take the reverse of the picture. The infancy of the poor child is one of cries, too often of blows; natural affection has given away before the iron presence of want. The old proverb, that "when poverty comes in at the door, love flies out at the window," is true in a far more general sense than the one in which it is generally applied. They have the floor for a bed, the scant and moulding remnant of food for dinner, the cold hearth where the wind blows in the smoke; their physical sufferings react on the moral world—they deaden and embitter the sweetest of our feelings. The parent half loves, half loathes the child that takes the bread from his own mouth, and the child looks on that as tyranny, which is only misery. It learns to fear before it learns to love. Suppose such a childhood past; it has escaped disease; no chance child has distorted the youthful limbs; they have, at least, health to begin life. The poor man has nothing more than his strength—God's best gifts lie dormant within him; the chances in some countries are that he cannot read even the holy page, that at least holds out the hope of a less miserable world. He has not that mental cultivation which alone teaches us what are our resources, and how to husband or to exert them. He knows how to labor, and that not in the most serviceable manner to himself. Too often he does not, even when he can, which is rare enough, lay up for the future, because he has never been accustomed to reflect.

An Editor's Secret.

Few of the profession there are in the West who did not know, personally, Pat Richardson, the genial whole-souled and wide-awake editor of the North Iowa "Times." Pat. has "gone home," but he has left behind him many wise counsels for his brothers. Establishing a paper in a ravine, as it were, (McGregor) he soon had it on a paying basis, and Pat. and his "Times" were noted for their success. The writer of this, one day when Pat. was in one of his familiar moods, asked him the secret of his success. "The secret?" said Pat.; "there is no secret about it. I make it a part of my business to mention in my paper, at least once a year, and in some pleasant connection, the name of every man, woman and child in the country. Every one has a weak spot, and this pleasant mention is sure to reach it. By this 'Secret,' if you call it so, I make every man, woman and child a friend of the paper, and interested in its success." Pat. used to tell a story of one old farmer who did not believe in newspapers, would have nothing to do with them, and apparently sincerely believed that newspapers and editors were sent in to the world to make mischief, and for no earthly good. One day Pat. saw the farmer in town with a load of produce, and there was in the next number of the "Times" a pleasant little item. From that day the farmer was one of the "Time's" firmest friends. The farmer kept a copy of the "Times" with the notice, and no person visited his house without being shown it. He always took a copy of the "Times" for his family, and sent other copies to his friends, and his papers were always paid for in advance.—"Rowell's Newspaper Reporter."

CHANNING ON BOOKS.—God be thanked for books? They are the voices of the distant and the dead, and make us heirs of the spiritual life of the past ages. Books are the true levelers. They give to all who will faithfully use them the society, the spiritual presence of the best and greatest of our race. No matter how poor I am, no matter though the prosperous of my own time will not enter my obscure dwelling, if the sacred waiters will enter and take up their abode under my roof, if Milton will cross my threshold to sing to me of Paradise, or Shakspear to open me the worlds of imagination and the workings of the human heart, and Franklin to enrich me with his practical wisdom, I shall not pine for want of intellectual companionship, and I may become a cultivated man, though excluded from what is called the best society in the place where I live.

THERE is a hilly county in East Tennessee where the children look up the chimney to see if the cows are coming home.

A thief who lately broke open a grocer's warehouse excused himself on the plea that he only went to take tea.

Letter from the West.

HOME, FREEPORT, Illinois, Feb 17th, 1871.

Dear Mother, Sister and Friends: Yesterday afternoon arrived me home safely, finding my family enjoying usual health, and myself likewise.

I will now commence somewhat in detail in describing my journey and its observations in passing along; arrived at Williamsport, at one P. M. weather soft, and snow melting a little, (about eight inches deep,) After rambling two or three hours and viewing some of its fine buildings, 14000 inhabitants, I got a through ticket to Chicago, $19,00, and the long train moved off at 6.30 P. M. up through mountains in the desolate darkness clothed in its mantle of white, arriving at Elmira, at eleven A. M. Next morning at 6.30 (high north wind snow three inches.) Train moved off through a well improved farm country passing and running parallel with that beautiful Seneca Lake of forty miles length on to Canandagua, and from thence on through a delightful and highly cultivated farm country interspersed with intelligent villages and the great fruit growing country of the Northern States, and arriving at one P. M. at Rochester, that Yankee city of 70,000. From thence on the great western train (every car being jammed full,) winding our way toward Niagara, and arrived at Suspension Bridge at four P. M. on the American side, could not cross until five. I jumped off the train, ran down and verging near the bank to behold in yonder mighty deep the grand waves succeeding and driving one after another into the whirlpool beneath, at this moment, I cast my eye upon the Suspension Railway of eight hundred feet in length, and two hundred feet above the mighty deep to see a long train from the Canadian side carrying across loaded with cattle, sheep and hogs. After gazing some time upon nature's work I returned to my car, at five train moved off slowly on its high mission across the great Suspension affording travellers quite an opportunity of beholding the great wonder of the world in a western view of a mile and three quarters in the distance. Stopped at the depot, and put up at Graham's hotel, (both on Canada side,) at $1.50 per day; according to the English law my baggage had to undergo custom house examination. Understand the reason why my baggage was carried to the Canada side, my through ticket called for my going up through Canada and crossing again at Detroit, so my baggage was called upon to be opened for examination. I stated the situation of my box, that it was screwed shut and had no screw driver, he could not help it according to custom he must see it. said I reach me your axe then, and I will soon have my box open, hold on, said he, make a statement of your journey and of what is in your box. I then stated my journey and its object, and now my way homeward. My chest contains a little dried fruit, three ears of corn, a bread basket, and a coverlid that my mother gave me (that was wove thirty three years ago.) A bystander said to him, (Mr. Custom House) what do you want with the man's rotten old quilt and his frozen potatoes, let him pass. He then shouted baggage master check this man's baggage and carry it to the baggage room, and this ended the fracas. Went to the hotel next morning started at seven with a great days work before me, cold and high wind no snow on the ground, twelve rods to the Suspension Bridge. In order to get a more extended view of the stupendous wild waters dashing its waves along out down two hundred feet through the (as it were), solid rock. I walked down a quarter of a mile below the bridge. Then returning paid my twenty-five cents, and crossed on the carriage and foot path (under the railway) to the American shore, wended my way up to the Falls, just above the Falls is a bridge to Goat Island, this island is in the river with one third running south and two thirds north of the island. I paid my fifty cents and crossed the bridge to Goat Island of about ten acres, and walked around it, coming to Luna Island a flight of steps leading along under the Falls to the American side, passing on to the north side of said Goat Island, we come to the south side of the great Falls or Horse Shoe, here is the grand scene of the whole panorama of this stupendous work of nature, thence passing the three small islands (called Twin Sister Islands,) they lie some distance out in the river above the great Falls, from thence I moved on (loaded with heavy coat of spray congealed into ice,) around the island passing out on the bridge on the American side, thence down half a mile to the carriage and foot bridge crossing immediately below the Falls 1300 feet long and 250 feet high, paid twenty five cents and started across, in the middle, about of the bridge I halted, and there spent an hour in gazing in full view upon the landscape of that stupendous cataract in its foaming and lashing wildness tumbling headlong from rock to rock, until it descends over the precipice in its foam of whiteness into the gulf beneath, and further, to add to the grandeur and sublimity of the scene, the spray arising in the sun beam high in the air forming the beautiful rainbow. Friends at this spot is the place to behold the works of Providence, compared with man's insignificance. From thence I moved on to the Canada shore, and thence up stream to Table Rock, and on the rock to have a fine view of the north part of the Horse Shoe, on the Canada side, I am now upon the rock as the last but not the last place to take the last gaze, being a little closer to, then while standing on the bridge already described. Having to some extent, accomplished the mission of my ambition, I now retire slowly from the theatre of nature, oftimes turning around as I retreat to yet catch a glimps of it in the distance. Following down the Canada shore to the Suspension Bridge, once more I am again induced to step to the very precipice upon a high rock to look way down on that grand move of waters in a narrow ditch of 500 feet, draining the northeastern country of its lakes tributaries, Adieu, the setting sun calls for a close of picturesque scenery. Go to the hotel, before leaving in the evening train, another look at the waters under the Suspension Bridge, while there a car train of 548 beef cattle passed over that mighty bridge on their way to New York.

Stepping into the train and away up through Canada, in the most part it is a level well improved country, we sketched a fine view of the upper end of Lake Ontario, its mountains of ice on the north line looked grand in the distance. Hamilton of 30,000 at the head of the lake is a fine Canadian enterprise. Sedan of 15,000 is the next place of same note on the Railroad. From thence to Detroit, bear with me a little in our getting over Detroit river, the train run directly on to the boat and stood still, passengers seated in the cars, the steam raised and this huge vessel moved off breaking the ice six inches thick as it went, while crossing the river of one mile, passengers were called upon to appear at the custom house and report baggage. My case came up again to open my trunk for examination. I made my statement, then called for an axe, before you use the axe sir, give me a history of your travel, I proceeded at some length, and about the time I gave the history of the old rotten quilt, he said hold on, and called for the baggage master to check my baggage, thus my custom house correspondence closed without opening my baggage at all. The boat crossed safely, (ten o'clock at night,) struck the track, the whistle piped, and the train moved forward on to the track.

Thence the slumbers of night disqualified us from any further observation, until our arrival at Kalamazoo, in Central Michigan at four in the morning. Thence I took a step off ticket to La Grange, Indiana, $1.45. Train moved at 9.45, and arrived in La Grange at 11.30 A. M. of Saturday. I remained until Wednesday morning, in the meantime I enjoyed a very fine visit among that people meeting warm friends and had a kindly greeting.

The following Wednesday morning, 9.45 I stepped aboard and went to Kalamazoo, at three took the Pacific Express to Chicago, and arrived twenty minutes after Freeport Express had left, (the only time I missed connections this winter.) The next morning at nine, set sail for Freeport, 3.20, P. M. On Stephenson street, I immediately saw my neighbor with his sled, put my baggage on board, and in a little time myself and store were at home. Found my family in usual health, I also found on further information that my smoke-house had burned away on the ninth of this month, they wrote to me on the sixth, (I presume the same has come to your hands ere this,) and the same day received mine of Feb., second. On my arrival home on yesterday (Thursday,) snow ten inches, mild beautiful day—to day a hard, north east snow storm, heavy banks of snow drifting, the great fruit killing storm of three weeks since, that you hear of in the papers, did not get as far north as us, at Chicago, southern Michigan, and northern Indiana, is where they suffered the most, aside from fruit being killed, a great deal of valuable timber was likewise destroyed. With us business is beginning to assume a little brighter aspect, the price of bread stuffs are a shade better, pork and live stock also better.

In conclusion, Dear Friends, my descriptive and tedious letter to your ear is coming to a close. In looking over the history of my experience in the past three months, it is the most eventful of my life.

Travelling as I did over the greater part of six States, having no misfortune or accident on the way, in all my travel of 1600 or 1800 miles, and coming home sitting down and looking over the high mission that Providence allowed me to perform, I may well exclaim that his goodness and mercies were always present.

Notwithstanding, during the period of my absence from home, several misfortunes have taken place. The first was the cow, the next was my Frank horse, of six years, was sprained in the hip, and is yet very lame scarcely able to walk, and also, on the ninth of this month my smoke house took fire and burned to the ground, about half of the meat was destroyed, but that was the least loss. The smoke house was one end of my tool house, and along side of the whole, was my carriage house, newly put up last fall. Tools of all kinds, horse rake, and the most part of my new reaper and mower are gone, so that the whole loss added to my general expense of the winter will reach $150. All right however, Providence does all things for the best.

Say to William Smith, and other friends that my box come safely and free of charge. The presents received from your kindness, and but one glass broken, were all in good order, even potatoes not frozen—my next to Sarah C. yours as ever, W. PETERS.

"The Man Who Drank."

The man who drinks is never, in the end "the man who laughs." He is generally the man who weeps, or for whom others must shed bitter tears. He is, alas! a member of no particular class of society. You meet him everywhere, from the lowest to the highest places of this world, and always find him not only his own worst enemy, but the unconscious enemy of all who trust in him.

If, among a band of hard-working mechanics, you find one who, on wages others deem sufficient for decent clothes, tidy rooms and comfortable dinners, is always out at elbows, always at loggerheads with his landlord, and always complaining of hard times, ten to one he is the man who drinks.

If, on the Judges' bench, you meet a man who deals unjustly, who judges unrighteously, who is facetious in the presence of misery and makes crime a jest, and the sentence of some poor wretch an excuse for stupid puns and regular witticisms, there also, you may know the man who drinks—in his own snug little room perhaps, not openly, but all the same, a drunkard.

If you see a woman worn and pale, and wretched from some unknown cause, fear in her eye and anxiety in her voice, youth gone too early, and her daily duties more sad burdens, ten to one her husband is the man who drinks; for who ever knew that man to keep his vow, and love and cherish and protect his wife?

The beggar children in the gutters, ignorant and vile and wretched beyond description, are his offspring. The jail opens to let him in. The gallows sometimes ends his life.

The man who drinks is not always an idiot, as one might believe. The greatest statesmen have ceased to be great; the best writers of the world dropped their pens when they were most useful and most brilliant—splendid fellows, whom men admired and women loved—have fallen in their heyday, because of rum. In one word, half the world is a failure, its hopes all wrecked its love an offering on a ruined shrine, its schemes dead failures, its crimes legion, its prisons and its charnel-houses full, because of the man who drinks.—N. Y. Ledger.

Filial Piety.

Show me a boy who obeys his parents, who has respect for age, always a friendly disposition, and who applies himself diligently to get wisdom and to do good toward others, and if he is not respected and beloved, there is no such thing as truth in the world.

Even when parents are ill-tempered and unreasonable, they should be treated with respect and forbearance by their children. Olympia, mother of Alexander the Great, was a woman of ambitious disposition, and occasioned much trouble to her son. Nevertheless, when pursuing his conquests in Asia, he sent her many splendid presents out of his spoils which he had taken as tokens of his affection. He only begged that she would not meddle with state affairs, but allow his kingdom to be managed peaceably by his governor, Antipater. When she sent a harsh reply to the request which he had made, he bore it patiently, and did not use sharp language in return.

On one occasion, when she had been unusually troublesome, Antipater sent him letters, complaining of her in very grievous terms. Alexander only said: 'Antipater does not know that one single tear of my mother is able to blot out six hundred of his epistles."

A boy was once tempted by some of his companions, to pluck ripe cherries from a tree which his father had forbidden him to touch.

"You need not be afraid," said one of his companions, "for if your father should find out that you have taken them, he is so kind he would not hurt you."

"That is the very reason," replied the boy, "why I would not touch them. It is true that my father would not touch me, yet my disobedience, I know, would hurt my father, and that would be worse to me than anything else."

A boy who grows up with such principles, will be a man in the best sense of the word. It shows a regard for rectitude, that would render him trustworthy under every trial.

A man who died quite lately in St. Louis, left $1000 to a man who some years ago ran away with his wife. In his will he explained the bequest by saying he "never forgot a favor."

San Domingo is said to produce larger musquitoes and more healthy blue tailed flies than any other section of country in the world.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now complete connections made,
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedy and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also peoplewho, instead of travelling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest price.

DR. PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OF GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The originator of this wonderful medicine, claims to have discovered and combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign medical properties than was ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and hundreds of the best physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties, it cures all Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch Pimple or Eruption. Mercurial Disease, Mineral Poisons, Syphilitic and Venereal Diseases, and their effects are eradicated and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine For "Liver Complaint," Bilious Disorders and Habitual Constipation, it has produced hundreds of perfect and permanent cures where other medicines had failed.

The proprietor offers $1,000 reward for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private Government Stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. This medicine is Sold by Druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Prepared by R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at his Chemical Laboratory 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y.

ROSADALIS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN health RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, and all Chronic Affections of the blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens. Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesborough, Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

R. B. BARGER,.....PROPRIETOR

W. W. BROWN,.....EDITOR

Terms: $2.00 Per Annum in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, March 22, 1871.

JOB WORK.—We are prepared to do all kinds of Job Work at the REPUBLICAN office. We are prepared to print the smallest cards, as well as the largest posters. We do our work well, and at the most reasonable rates. Our readers will remember that we obtained a Diploma from the County Fair last fall, for the best "Plain and Ornamental Printing." There is no establishment in the County can say as much. Bring, or send in your work. Give us a trial, and be convinced.

PAY UP.

Many of our readers have paid in advance. We have nothing but thanks for them, and they need not read this article any farther. It is not intended for them. But we have a large number of subscribers who have not paid last years subscription. Now friends this is not the way to support a paper. We have to pay cash for everything we purchase. Paper, ink, labor, all are cash. We know that we have not a subscriber on our books, who is not abundantly able to pay for the REPUBLICAN.

It is not because you are not able, but because you forget or neglect it. If you continue this course much longer it will cost you something extra. Remember our rates are $2,00 in advance; $2,50 if not paid within six months, and $3,00 if not paid till the end of the year.

IT is very probable that the Democrats of New Hampshire will have a small majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. They will be able to elect their Governor, and thus entirely complete their recent victory.

MORE TROUT.—Maj. Wm. F. Reynolds and T. R. Reynolds Esq., have determined to build a fish pond and the necessary buildings for the raising of trout. The more the merrier. Proceed gentlemen without delay.

MR. H. HARPER, dealer in Watches, Jewelry, &c., has removed from 520, Arch street, to 722 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, as will be seen by his advertisement in this issue. This is an old-established and reliable house—noted especially for solid Silver Ware, Fine Watches and Jewelry. He welcomes his old and new friends.

WELCOME.—We had the pleasure of meeting and making the acquaintance, last week, of C. F. Hall, Esq., who is traveling for Powell F. Clayton, wholesale dealer in, and manufacturer of, Ladies', Misses', Children's Men's, Boy's and youth's boots and shoes, No. 155, North 3d street, Phila. Mr. Hall understands his business well and is doing his House noble service.

PLOWS &c.—Isaac Haupt Esq., has now ready for sale a large lot of plows, containing Bryans improvement on the Worts plow. They are certainly the best plows made. Also a lot of cook stoves, which will be sold ten per cent less than market value, for cash. He has also for sale the Monitor Coffee Pot, which is a novelty in its way, and superior to any other coffee pot. Call and see him.

THE contest in Connecticut is growing decidedly interesting. The result of the New Hampshire election has admonished the Republicans of the danger ahead, and they are now making a better fight, and one which promises the happiest results. There is nothing like a disaster or an alarm to awaken the dormant energies of a nation or a party. Connecticut will not be surrendered without a struggle, but as we have to carry the mistakes and quarrels of the winter the struggle will be a severe one.

IT seems to be admitted that the United States Supreme Court has decided to reopon the legal tender case. Notice has been served on the counsel of the former cases that they would be heard once more, and it is inferred that the former decisions will be reversed. Any further judicial action in these cases is to be deprecated. No matter what may be individual preferences and individual views, it is better for the whole community that this question should be definitely and finally settled. Uncertainty is worse than any decision.—Phila Press.

THE United States Senate on Saturday debated at considerable length a resolution of Mr. Sherman, alleging the subversion by armed, disguised, and lawless men, mainly soldiers of the late rebel armies, of all civil authority in a large part of the late insurrectionary States; that persons and property are unsafe, the rights of citizens denied, and the courts powerless by organized perjury to punish crime, and instructing the Judiciary Committee to report remedial legislation. After a speech in favor of the resolution from Mr. Sherman, and a short debate, the Senate adjourned without taking any action.

Down The Hill.

The evening of every man's life is coming on apace. The day of life will soon be spent. The sun, though it may be up in mid-heaven, will pass swiftly down the western sky, and disappear. What shall light up man's path when the sun of life has gone down? He must travel on to the next world; but what shall illumine his footsteps after the nightfall of death, amid the darkness of his journey. What question more important, more practical, more solemn for each reader of our journal to ask himself? That is a long journey to travel without light, without a guide, and without a friend. Yet every man must perform it. The time is not far distant when all men will begin the journey. There is an evening star in the natural world. Its radiance is bright and beautiful, and cheering to the benighted traveler. But life's evening star is in a good hope of heaven, its beauty and brilliancy are reflected from the Sun of righteousness, whose bright rays light up the evening of life, and throw their radiance quite across the darkness of the grave into Immanuel's land. It has illuminated the footsteps of many a traveler into eternity. It is of priceless value. A thousand world's cannot purchase it; and yet it is offered, without money and without price, to him who will penitently and thankfully receive it.

WHY IS IT?—We ask for information. Why is that the Town Council permits the pavement in front of the stores of Wm. B. Savage, Hoffer & Bro., &c., to remain as it is? It is too low by 6 inches. It is always covered, in front of the Hall, with dirt and filth, so that it is almost impassible for ladies. Whose business is it to make it right? Is it T. R. Reynolds, Esq., or the Town Council that should attend to it? It must be attended to soon by somebody.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of "Liver Complaint" or "Billousness." Constipation of the Bowels, Bronchial Throat and Lung diseases, severe Coughs, and as a blood purifier for the cure of Scrofulous diseases. Boils, Eruptions, Tumors, Pimples, Blotches and Rashes appearing upon the face. Sold by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine.

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts, and can have faith in evidence, read the following.

Know all men by these presents. That, on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-six, personally came Joseph Haydrick to me known as such, and being duly sworn deposed as follows: "That he is the sole general agent for the United States and dependencies thereof for preparations or medicines known as Dr. Maggiel's Pills and Salve, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SAEETRE, Notary Public,

June 1st, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, Doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss. JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue, D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.
WILSON HARVEY,
NEW YORK, April 7, 1866. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me, by him, about eight weeks after the accident:

NEW YORK, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Haray; I am an Iron Founder. I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal: I tried Maggiel's Salve and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true and anybody can see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2d Avenue.
J. HARDY, 119 Greeck St.

EXTRACTS FROM VARIOUS LETTERS.

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvellous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears, and the noise has left."

"Send me two boxes, I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar, your price is 25 cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Pills by return mail."

I Have over 200 such Testimonials as these, but want of space compels me to conclude.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS,

And all erruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal on nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skilfull artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's pattent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, and used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Grey Hair to its natural Vitality & Color.

A dress which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Fresh or gray hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparation dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Drunkenness and its Curses—No. 11.

BY REFORMATION.

Why is all this increase of ungodliness, crime, misery, groanings, sorrow and affliction among us? Is not the desperate wickedness of the heart sufficient without artificial excitement? If the commerce were inseparable from all the great and good ends of our social being, we might endure the evil, for the sake of the good, and they only be accountable who abuse themselves. But here is an article of commerce spread over the land, and under a cover of law, known as the license law, whose effect is evil and only evil, and that continually, and which increases a thousandfold the energies of human depravity and the hopeless victims of future punishment.

Now I believe I said in the beginning, my intention was to speak plainly upon this subject. What ridicule and abuse I may receive from the public I care not. This arch enemy of human souls, clothed in its suit known as the license law, came well nigh securing my soul for eternal damnation. Therefore, I will screen no one. I know the demon. I know his friends. And will I stand idle and see others dragged down to hell, and not raise my voice (however feeble it may be) to save them, though the advocates of this desolation of abominations are seated in high places? He who rescued me from their vile contaminations, declares my work. And without fear, favor or affection from the world, have I entered upon my duty. It is a fatal mistake to suppose, that there can be no apostacy from Christ, when we are absolutely called on, to deny his name. We deny our Lord whenever we, through love of this present world, forsake the course of duty which Christ has plainly pointed out to us. We deny our Lord whenever we lend the sanction of our countenance, our praise, or even our silence to measures or opinions which may be popular or fashionable in the world, but which we ourselves believe to be sinful in themselves or tending to sin. We deny our Lord whenever we forsake a man in affliction, and refuse to give countenance, encouragement and support to those who, for God's sake and for the faithful discharge of their duty, are exposed to persecution and abuse. For he is the prompter of the life given principle in the heart, and to quench this admonition is simply to deny that very comforter, promised us by Christ when he ascended to his father in heaven. What else can it be? And when we lend our sanction in any way whatever to measures that we know to be a weapon of destruction to all and every one around and among us what are we doing. Are we not blaspheming, and casting aside the index to heaven? What is blasphemy? Simply this, an indignity offered to God by words, or writing. That which derogates from the prerogatives of God. Now he who signs a petition for a license to sell liquor, and the court who grants the license are doing nothing more than blaspheming the spirit of God. What was the cause of your uneasy appearance when looking upon the funeral procession of the man who died a raving maniac, when you beheld the wife of that man and her children weeping the bitter tears of sorrow? Why was it you feel uncomfortable, your countenance, yes the very fashion of your faces portrayed that a confusion was working within you. Now the spirit though your conscience told you plainly that the man you saw carried to the drunkard's grave, was simply the fruit of the tree known as the license law, which you are keeping alive and growing, among us, through and by which the souls of millions are annually being cast into hell. In time gone by, ignorance might have been set up as a plea of exemption from guilt, but you would be ashamed to claim such a plea in this our day, with the candle of the Gospel shining in your faces. You may sneer at my quotations of St. Matt. XII, c. 32, 33d v., &c (In my article preceeding this,) we will, should we live have more to say on that subject in future. Contemplate, reflect, ponder well the consequences of not heeding the monitor of your souls salvation before it is forever to late. He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. Matt. XII c. 80th v. We need men to accomplish the overthrow of this accursed demon, we need such who will stand firm to the cause. Men, who will not accept the thirty pieces of silver, and God will give us such in this cause. He will—he has raised up men who will preach temperance and abstinence too, though devils are combined against them, thick as the grass on the field.

But the church sleeps on this subject, as it it would never awake. A large proportion of professing christians have lent but little aid, in putting down, or in effort so to do, the monster intemperance, (who receives his supplies through the license law). Large numbers are the open advocates of ardent spirits. They seem willing to entail upon their children all the evils of intemperance, for the sake of the wealth they receive through the commerce in liquors. Thus selling out the spirit of Christ for whiskey. Placing their own souls and that of their children in the power of the devil, and yet claiming to love the religion of Christ? Oh! shame where is thy blush! But friends of the church, you must cleanse your garments, and come forward as a body, and lend the power of religion to arrest the progress of this destroyer of human souls. What is the mission of the church? Is it not to save souls? Is not the tears of the widow and the cries of the orphan sufficient to arouse you from your death-like slumber, (and cause you to awake from the lethargy in which you are in) to a true sense of your duty? What if your master comes and finds you sleeping, with your head resting upon the license law as your pillow? And find yourself in a situation no better than the blind Pharisee. Your cries of mercy then will be pitiful indeed, you may have the lamp, but no oil in it. No the wealth you have accumulated through the agency of the license law is not sufficient to fill your lamp with oil.

He who deliberately assists his neighbor to destroy his life, is not guiltless because his neighbor is a free agent and is also guilty—and he is accessary to the crime, though twenty other persons might have been ready to commit the same sin, if he had not done it. Who would sell poison to his neighbor to destroy himself, because he could obtain it elsewhere? Who would sell a dagger for the known purpose of assassination, because if it were refused, it could be purchased in another place? We are accountable for our own wrong-doing, and liable to punishment at the hand of God, as really as if it had been certain that no one would have done the deed if, we did not. And now supporters of the license law, no longer claim exemption from guilt, because you find it upon the statute book.

The Great Medical Discovery!
Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands
Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also a peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion of Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

Newspaper Patronage.

There seems to be a great many different ways of defining and understanding the phrase 'newspaper patronage,' and as the party interested in a correct definition of the same, we give the following disquisition on the subject by one who knows whereof he speaks. It may serve, perhaps, as a mirror in which certain parties may be able to "see themselves as others see them."

Many long and dreary years in the publishing business have forced the conviction upon us that newspaper patronage is a word of many definitions, and that a great majority of mankind are either ignorant of the definition or are dishonest in a strict biblical sense of the word. Newspaper patronage is as changeable as a chameleon.

One man comes in, subscribes for a paper, pays for it in advance, and goes home and reads it with proud satisfaction that it is his. He hands in his advertisement and reaps the advantage thereof. This is patronage.

Another man asks you to send him the paper, and goes off without saying a word about the pay. Time passes on, and you are in need of money and ask him to pay the sum he owes you. He flies into a passion, perhaps pays you, perhaps not, and orders his paper stopped. This is called patronage.

One man brings a fifty cent advertisement and a two dollar puff thrown in, and when you decline, he goes off mad. Even this is called patronage.

Another man don't take your paper—it is too high priced: but he borrows and reads it regularly, and that could be called newspaper patronage.

One man likes your paper; takes a copy, pays for it, and gets his friends to do the same; he is not always grumbling to you or others, but has a friendly word. If an accident occurs in his section he informs the editor.—This is newspaper patronage.

One hands in a marriage, or other notice, and asks for extra containing it, and when you ask him to pay for the paper, he looks surprised: "You surely don't expect pay for such little matters?" This is called newspaper patronange.

One (it is good to see such) comes in and says: "The year which I paid is about to expire. I want to pay for another," he does so and retires. This is newspaper patronage.

It will be seen by the above, that while certain kinds of patronages are the very life of the newspaper, there are other kinds which are more fatal to its health and circulation than the coils of a boa constrictor to the prey it patronizes.

Foot and Mouth Diseases.

There is considerable alarm felt in this vicinity at the appearance of the foot and mouth disease in cattle. It is traced from several farms near to me directly to Brighton. Cattle were bought apparently well and driven home, which soon were taken down and communicated the disease to the whole herd. One man was selling $13 worth of milk per day. The dealers at the railroad heard that some of his cows were sick, and all of his milk was sent back one day. No more would be taken. The whole milk trade is unsettled. Good milk is frequently sold at half price. People don't know when they are safe.

Then, beefsteak has lost its relish. It might have been sliced from some diseased animal prudently killed!—Thin quarters sell at a low figure in Boston. I saw several bought a 6 cts. a pound.

The State Commissioners having charge of the contagious diseases, have caused the posting of notices by the selectmen of the different towns, prohibiting the driving of cattle, except fat cattle. It is hoped to check the spreading of the disease by preventing farther communication. Persons owning cattle refuse to allow any one in their barns who has been among the disease.

I have been told particularly how a herd looked which had been sick for weeks. Their feet were tender and sore. They could hardly stand. Saliva was contantly drizzling from their mouths. The poor animals could eat but little, as their mouths were nearly raw, and, of course, were rapidly diminishing in flesh.

An intelligent Irishman living near me, says that he had two heifers down with it in the "old country," ank kept up their strength by giving them oatmeal gruel in a bottle. He also put salt and molasses into their sore mouths.

The breaking out of this disease is much to be deplored. Our neat stock which furnishes the indispensible meat and milk, cannot be parted with without the most painful deprivation. We have no discovered available substitute for their accepted utility. It is well to remember that their most vigorous condition is a great safeguard against all disease.—William D. Brown, of Middlesex county, Mass, February 2, 1871, in Germantown Telegraph.

Pear Culture.

There is a great deal said in regard to the mode and manner of pear culture. My experience is that it matters little what kind of soil or situation they are on so that they get the proper kind of treatment. Keep the ground well mulched, and water them with soapsuds and manure water.

We seldom prune except to cut off the ends of the branches where they grow beyond their strength to support themselves. We have been able to show more good fruit for the number of trees than any other pear-grower I have ever yet seen.

We are able to perfect all the fruit. If the branches are likely to break, when overburdened, we prop them.—My impression is there are some varieties will answer better in different localities.

We have a succession of some of the best fruit from the Seventh month until the last of the first month of the following year.

We ripen in our cellar vault, having tables covered with saw dust about two or three inches deep, which absorbs the superabundant moisture, and prevents the fruit from wilting. You can also inspect the fruit without handling which injures it. Sometimes we cover them with paper when they incline to wilt. This will also prevent them from getting moist in very damp weather.—Germantown Telegraph.

Whose Boy is That?—He may be seen any day, in almost any part of town—he never makes room for you on the side walk, looks at you saucily, he is very impudent, and often vulgar to women who pass—he delights in frightening and sometimes does serious injuries to little boys and girls—he lounges at the street corners, and is the first arrival at a dog fight or any other sort of scrape—he crowds into the post office in the evening, and multiplies himself and his antics at such a rate that people having legitimate business there are crowded out; he thinks himself very sharp, he is certainly very noisy—he can smoke and chew tobacco now and then, and rip out an oath almost any time—we ask whose boy is he? Mother is he yours? We think he is, for there are many good qualities in the lad, and we do not think that you know what he does in the streets. Look after him, mother, keep him more at home, train him, and you will have a son to be proud of some day.

Dried Clay for Ulcers.—After reading the accounts of the great value of dry earth as a dressing for wounds, &c., in Waring's "Earth Closets, and how to make them." I dried and pulverized some clay, and I recommended it as a valuable remedy to a neighbor woman who had for ten years a very bad ulcer on her ankle. She had paid our best physicians over $50 for treatment, without any relief. She applied the dry clay almost constantly for about six months, and a perfect cure has resulted. The first effect of the preparation was to remove inflamation and relieve pain, and now, says, there is no scar remaining, and her limb, which was stiff and lame, is as elastic as when she was a girl. The woman is a very large, fleshy person, about forty years of age. I considered the test a very severe one, and the result very satisfactory. About a gallon of pulverized clay was used.—Country Gentleman.

Chinese Method of Preseving Grapes.—Travelers inform us that the Chinese have a method of preserving grapes, so as to have them at their command during the entire year; and a recent author gives us the following account of the method adopted. It consists in cutting a circular piece out of a ripe pumpkin or gourd, making an aperture large enough to admit the hand. The interior is then completely cleaned out, the ripe grapes are placed inside, and the cover replaced and pressed in firmly. The pumpkins are then kept in a cool place, and the grapes will be found to retain their freshness for a long time. We are told that a very careful selection must be made of the pumpkin, the common field pumpkin, however, being well adapted for the purpose in question.

Blackberries and Raspberries should be set as early as the condition of the soil will allow. The underground shoots which will form the canes of next season, start very early and are likely to be injured if the setting is left until late.—Agriculturist.

Pruning of small limbs may be done with the knife wherever necessary, to bring trees into shape.

FRESH COW.—Abraham Valentine offers for sale, a first rate milch cow. The calf of which is about three weeks old, he will retain.

FOR SALE.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that J. S. Barnhart, Esq., offers for sale a good Photograph Car. Here is a chance for a bargain.

A LETTING of the Pews of the M. E. Church for the present conference year, will take place at the church on Saturday afternoon and evening, the 25th inst. A good attendence is requested. By order of GARDEN SEEDS.—C. W. Lamberts Sunny-Side Garden Seeds are for sale at the store of Keller & Musser and at the drug store of Linn & Wilson (formerly F. S. Wilson) No. 1 in the Brokerhoff House. If you want good seeds buy none but Lamberts.

BOARD OF STEWARDS.

MARRIED.—Our young friend Amos Mullin on the 15th inst., being tired of living in a state of single blessedness, entered into the state of matrimony. Amos we wish you great joy and abundant success in life. You are now one of us, and have our assurance that you will find in the bliss of matrimony all the real joys of life.

GIVE US NOTICE.—Subscribers to the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN who intend to change their place of residence, should not fail to notify us where they wish their papers sent after April 1st. It will save us trouble if you will give us the name of your present Post Office, as well as the name of the office to which you desire the paper sent in future.

GOING.—Our enterprising friend, J. D. Miller, Esq., having sold out his Book Store to John I. Rankin, Esq., is making preparations to remove to Pleasant Gap, where he intends to engage in the mercantile business. Pleasant Gap is a good location for a store, and our readers will find Mr. Miller a very pleasant as well as a reliable man. We wish him success.

GREAT BALL.—On the night of Easter Monday, it being the 10th of April Geo. F. Ronian, will give a grand Ball and Supper in Bush's Arcade in this place. Tickets $1,00. Geo intends that this shall be the largest and best ball and supper ever given in Bellefonte. It will no doubt please our young folks, and they know that Mr. Ronian is a success in this business.

ON Sunday last, 'Eagle Chapel,' which has been the place of worship of the Methodists for a period of nearly sixty years, near Curtin's Works, was discovered to be on fire. Before the flames were subdued about one-third of the roof was consumed. How the fire originated we have not learned. Efforts are being made to erect a new church at that point, which is much needed.

HARDWARE.—The Messrs. J. & J. Harris, dealers in Hardware, Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa., are making arrangements to increase, their already extensive trade. They have everything usually kept in a hardware store, and extend a cordial invitation to their old friends and the public generally, to call and see them. They are reliable, clever upright men and we wish them success.

MILK.—Not of the Josh Billings kind of milk do we write; but our friend Col. D. K. Tate brought home a cow, last week a good one, but not an Alderney, that is said to be a great Milker. Some of the single young ladies in this town, are of the opinion that as milk is getting so plenty in Bellefonte, that the great calf of the Tyrone Herald should come back here to live and promulgate Plain Words, as well as "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain."

GOOD STOCK.—Abraham Valentine and A. Hoy, Esq's., have each purchased and brought to town an Alderney cow. We have been informed that they each paid $250, including the freight upon the cows to this place. Farmers of Centre, think of $250 for one cow. There is money in raising blooded stock. Messrs. Valentine & Hoy deserve the thanks of the community for their enterprise, and for their efforts, to encourage the farmers of this county to engage in raising good stock instead of the common scrubs.

CONCERT.—The Concert held at Milesburg, in the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening last, under the guidance of Prof. Stover, was not so largely attended as might have been, though quite a number wended their way thither. The Milesburg String Band, as usual, discoursed sweet music during the intervals. The imitations of the Mocking Bird, by Mr. Bierly, was good. The Organist, Miss Lide McMinn, bids fair to become one of the best performers in this section of country. The song sung by Miss Carrie Green, a little girl about ten years of age, was well worth the price of admission.

"SPOOK" STORY.—An aged couple, a little way out of town, after procuring a competency for themselves, some years ago, built a cozy home in which to enjoy for the remainder of their lives the fruits of their labors. A few evenings ago, a light was seen through the cracks of the weather-boarding of the barn.—Barn-burning lent terror to the occasion. No time was consumed in arranging the aged patriarch's toilet. He hurried out, found the favorite horse in his place, and all right, returned, and, sleep having departed, he dressed. Directly the light was again seen, search again made, resulting in no discovery.

This was perplexing, as both had seen the light each time, and how to account for it was the absorbing question.

A little superstition would have worked out an extensive spook story, founded on fact. The explanation is: A house stands about a mile off, directly in range with the house and barn, and it is supposed the light of that house was in such a position that it could be seen through the cracks of the stable. One thing, however, is certain, that our aged friend came off with a bad cold.

A CAVE.—Last Friday while the workmen were engaged in quarrying stone at Shortlidge & Co's lime kilns, the ground gave way under the feet of one of them and he fell in up to his suspender buttons, to what was afterwards discovered to be a cave 36 feet deep and running under the turnpike road, and extending for yards into the hill in a northerly direction. Up to this writing we have heard of no eyeless fish or Cardiff Giants found in it, but one of the workmen, by the aid of a rope descended the cave and brought up several very valuable, and rare specimens of articles, for which as yet we have no name. Bond Valentine one of this enterprising firm, and a first class, reliable gentleman, informed us, that it was indeed, a curiosity. We think our people male and female should walk out and see it. The walk we know will be good for their health, and besides the cave they can witness the extensive facilities possessed by Shortlidge & Co., for making the best lime in the United States. Go and see the cave.

BELLEFONTE IRON CO.—This company having associated with them in their business and firm. S. S. Lyon, Esq., are now doing a good business at their new Rolling Mills above the Glass works in this place. The names of the firm as at present organized are, Evan Valentine, Harry Valentine, Abraham Valentine, Wm. Jenkins and S. S. Lyon. The firm is a strong one as all our people will testify, and the names are a sure guarantee of success. The mills have been running constantly since the 1st of last January, turning out the best quality of wire made in the United States. The charcoal iron manufactured in Centre county cannot be excelled in this or any other country in the world. We hope their orders for wire will increase until they will be compelled to enlarge their mills and employ more hands—good Republican hands.

AGENTS.—It is with pleasure we notice that our sanctum was illuminated, last week, by the pleasant faces of two very nice young men, to wit: G. C. Dreisback, Esq., and E. Carpenter, Esq., agents for "National Copying Company," D. R. Stiltz, General Superintendent. This Company copies, enlarges, or reduces all kinds of pictures, portraits, views, drawings, &c. in oil, india ink or plain photographs, with fine oval or square rose-wood, walnut or guilt frames. Makes a specialty of enlarging, framing and restoring old portraits. Pictures to be copied, and all orders may be left at the Brockerhoff House, Bellefonte, Pa. Mr. Dreisback and Mr. Carpenter are both active reliable young men, and we have no hesitancy in recommending them to our people.

NEW HOTEL.—J. B. Butts having obtained a license at the January Court for his new Hotel and fashionable Restaurant, on the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets, is now under full headway, prepared to accommodate all who may favor him with their custom. J. B. Butts, Esq., is well known to the people of this county, and as a landlord and caterer to the tastes of his guests, he has few, if any, superiors. H. D. Ruble is always present in the Restaurant to attend to that branch of the business, and who will doubt the ability of Mr. Ruble to faithfully attend to his department?

READ.—Hoffer & Bro., at their old stand on Allegheny street, have just received a large stock of new goods, and will receive another large assortment in a few days. This firm is one of the most reliable in town; do business on the square, and never fail to have a full house and plenty of purchasers. The pleasant face of Mat. Dooley, chief clerk, is always seen behind the counter, ready to do the amiable to all who may call in.

ARCADE SALOON.—H. H. Stone has rented the Arcade Saloon next door to Messrs. Sussman & Guggenheimer's store, and is now prepared to furnish the best of oysters, and every other article usually kept in a first class restaurant. Mr. Stone understands his business

"A PLEASANT VISITOR."—Our particular friend Samuel Young, Esq., Editor and Proprietor of the East Brady Independent comes to us, containing the following complimentary notice of our friend, neighbor and patron J. G. Larimer. Mr. Larimer is a clever man and an excellent salesman, "which the same" Mr. Young "is free to maintain." He says:

On Monday evening last while seated in our sanctum, we were disturbed by the entrance of a pleasant faced individual and after closely examining his phiz, concluded he must be our old friend, J. G. Larimer, of Pleasant Gap, Centre county. No wonder they call it Pleasant Gap, where he lives, for such a genial, smiling face would make sun shine in any locality. Well, after a hearty handshaking, and asking many questions, we found that our friend with many others in and around Bellefonte, regretted very much that we did not make that beautiful town our future home after we left Clarion. But circumstances willed it otherwise, and here we are on the banks of the Allegheny, doing our best to meet the wants of our large family of readers in giving them a spicy local paper.

But to our friend Larimer. He is now as he has been for many years, the popular salesman of the well known Grocery house of Burns & Smucker, 605 Market street, Philadelphia. In his line he has been a complete success and proved himself fully up to the times in selling goods. If any of our readers wish to procure goods at fair rates, of the best quality, they can do so by ordering through the house direct, or give their order to Mr. Larimer, who is now canvassing this region.

ALTOONA DISTRICT.—The following are the appointments by the Carlisle M. E. Conference for this district:

J. S. M'Murray, presiding elder, post office, Tyrone, Pa; Altoona, First church, F. B. Riddle; Altoona Eighth avenue, D. S. Monroe: Hollidaysburg, G. Warren; Duncansville, W. C. Robbins; Martinsburg, J. W. Leckie; Williamsburg, W. M. Meminger; Logan's Valley, D. Hartman; Tyrone, T. Barnhart; Port Matilda, J. F. Craig; Milesburg, J. W. Cleaver; Howard, J. W. Buckley; Penn's Valley, J. W. Houghawout; Bellefonte, J. Mullin; Half Moon, E. Butler, W. V. Ganoe; Warrior's Mark, D. Castleman; Philipsburg, R. E. Wilson, T. H. Switzer, sup.; Grahamton, W. H. Miller transferred to Virginia conference; G. W. Izer transferred to Oregon conference, W. S. Edwards transferred to Baltimore conference: M. A. Rudisill transferred to Holton conference.

NEW DWELLING.—We are pleased to learn that our old friend Robert McKnight has sold a lot, and engaged to build thereon a splendid residence during the summer, for our esteemed fellow townsman, S. S. Lyon, Esq. The lots belonging to Mr. McKnight are located in the most desirable portion of the town, and are in the immediate neighborhood of nearly all the richest and handsomest residences. We would like to hear that they were all sold and arrangements made to build costly mansions on them. Mr. McKnight knows how to erect good buildings. What an impetus it would give our town, besides giving employment to our mechanics and workingmen.

THE LECTURE.—Unfortunately we were prevented from hearing the lecture in St. John's Catholic Church, in this place on the evening of the 17th inst., delivered by Rev. M. P. Stack, of Williamsport, Pa. The subject was, "The Irish Race," and we are informed that the lecturer did his subject full justice in a manner pleasing to all, and which held his large audience spell bound for over one hour and twenty minutes. Some of the more intelligent and enthusiastic declared that they could have listened to his sweet strains of eloquence all night. We hope he will come again

COME AGAIN.—We were, pleased to meet, in our sanctum, on Monday last, J. P. McColley, Esq., agent for Edwin L. Mintzer, Jr., wholesale dealer in Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Butter, Cheese, &c., also packer of Canned Fruits, Vegetables, Jellies Catsup, Pickels, Meats, &c., No. 36, North Wharves, Philadelphia. Mr. McColley is a very companionable man and a perfect gentleman.—He will do business no matter where he goes.

AT WORK.—Mr. Leuffer is now engaged with his Engineer Corps in surveying and locating the B. & S. S. R. R., from this place to Lemont. We do not know how long they will be in fixing the location. Lemont, we suppose, will spread herself like a green bay tree, when the road is finished to that point. Who would ever thought of a railroad to Lemont, ten years ago?

ROUND HOUSE.—The B. & S. S. R. R. Co., will we understand commence the erection of a Round-House about the 1st of May, in this Borough, large enough to contain seven locomotives. We have not learned the spot upon which the building will be erected. Bellefonte is bound to come up.

EGGS &c.—Eggs are now selling at 15 cts. per dozen and butter at 30 cts. per lb in this place. Why are eggs not sold by the pound here as elsewhere?

ABOUT PIKE.—We received the following letter from Washington, with the statement (not for publication) inserted; but it contains so much of interest in regard to the habits of the pike, that the temptation to publish, was too strong to resist:

WASHINGTON, March 18, 1871.

DEAR BROWN.—I enjoyed an hour this morning very much in looking over your really good paper, of March 15th, and having nothing better to do, have concluded to drop you a line giving some facts as settled, in my own experience, in hunting that fine flavored and beautiful game-fish—the pike. They were brought to mind on reading the local headed, "Good Shot," giving an account of the capture of two large pike at one shot, by Mr. Heverly of Howard. Now, I dont want to detract from the skill of Mr. Heverly as a marksman, but will venture to say that neither of the fish were touched by the bullet from his rifle.

In the sunny days of early spring, it is the habit of the pike to lie near the surface of the still pools and eddies of the larger streams, and also the small brooks and even ditches, made for draining purposes, running through the meadows and lowlands, always filled with water at that season of the year. When so found, nothing is easier than to secure them, as the concussion produced by a ball from a rifle, striking the water within 12 to 24 inches of a pike, deprives him of life, at least long enough to secure him.

I have frequently killed a pike for every bullet taken with me, while hunting them at Beech Creek and the small streams in the vicinity. Their activity, when disturbed, is wonderful, but their speed will not save them when pursued by a rifleman with a steady hand and a sure eye, as I have killed them when in full flight, passing me with the appearance of a blue streak, making for the mouth of the stream, and deeper water.

How I would like to be among them, some of these fine days. I am under the impression all skill has not departed, and I think the editor of the REPUBLICAN might possibly have an opportunity of acknowledging the receipt of a big one or more, which I am sure he would enjoy quite as much as the sausages, or even sour Kraut, we have seen noticed so often.

Very Truly Your Friend
W. W. HAYS.

YOUNG MEN.—We notice that a majority of both our city and country exchanges are writing bitter complaints in regard to the young men of the present age. To read their remarks and to listen to their criticisms we would be led to believe that the young men of the present day were a very dilatory, worthless class, far inferior both in intellect and industry to the young men of twenty years ago. We do not believe a word of it, while we are free to admit, that in this as well as in every other town or city, there may be a few young men who live apparently without any occupation or motive, and of course without any moral character or standing in the community. But such young men are scarce in Bellefonte. We are proud of our young men. Bellefonte is proud of her young men. We run no risk in saying that they will compare favorably with the young men of any other town or city in the State, intellectually, scientifically and morally. We say again, we are proud of them, and we know their parents and friends are proud of them. We give the names of a few of them this week, as follows to wit; Samuel Durbin Gray, Benner Graham, Moses Montgomery, Frederick Jarret, Frank Montgomery, Wm. P. Duncan, Wm. Zellar, F. P. Blair, John I. Potter, D. F. Fortney, J. G. Love, James T. Hale, Theodore Gordon, Isaac Lytle, J. F. Larimer, George Potter, Harry Valentine, Samuel Lipton, W. S. Wagner, Harvy A. Baily, A. G. Curtin Jr., Wm. P. Humes, Andrew Cook, Claud Cook, Hiram O. Hoffer, Harry Hicks, Charles Cook, James H. McClure, Harry Herrington, Isaiah Zimmerman, Geo. Brew, John Lane, Mathias Dooly, Adolph Loeb, John Kurtz, James McClain and a number more we might name and would be pleased to do so, if our space would permit. We will refer to this subject again. What town in the State can do better than this?

THE BROCKERHOFF.—We are glad to announce to the people of Centre county, and to the traveling community, that Messrs. Houseal & Krom, the gentlemanly proprietors of the Brockerhoff House, have concluded to remain in charge of the house at least another year. It was rumored that they had thrown up the house and intended moving to the Montour House, Lock Haven, Pa. They have changed their minds, and we are really pleased that they did so. They are good citizens, keep a first-class Hotel, and we could not well spare them from this community. We hope they will have no reason to regret their decision.

DISSOLUTION.—In another column of to-day's paper will be seen a notice of the dissolution of the law-firm of Wilson & Hutchison, Esqs. Mr. Wilson will continue the practice of the law, at his office on Allegheny Street, one door South of the REPUBLICAN office. Mr. Wilson is a good lawyer, and a high-minded, honorable man.

RE-PAINTING.—Daniel Rhoads Esq., Superintendent of the B. & S. S. R. R. Co., and one of our best and most correct citizens, has now the painters at work re-painting his house. His residence is one of the handsomest, and the location one of the most beautiful in our romantic town.

PUBLIC SALES.—W. L. Gordon, Esq., has disposed of his mill property, and we believe, of all his real estate in and about Howard Borough. On the 29th day of March, he will offer all his personal property for sale. We enumerate a few of the articles offered: 8 good mules, 3 milch cows, 25 head of good hogs, buggies, wagons, one sled, horse gears, saddles and bridles, plows, harrows, cultivators, 150 yards of carpet, together with a large assortment of household and kitchen furniture. Sale to commence at 1 o'clock of said day. Mr. Gordon is a very clever man—we hope he does not design moving to the West. He cannot be spared.

Maj. George D. Pifer will expose to Public Sale, at his residence, next door to 1st National Bank in this place, on Tuesday March 28th, 1871, commencing at 1 o'clock, p. m., precisely, his entire stock of household furniture, consisting in part of the following articles, viz:—One new sett of walnut bed-room furniture, 1 hair cloth lounge, 2 cottage bedsteads, chairs, tables, 1 walnut extension table, looking glasses, bureaus, cook and parlor stoves, a large lot home-made rag and ingrain carpets, entry and stair carpets, nearly as good as new, together with a large variety of other articles good and useful to the housekeeper. At the same time and place he will sell his fine Bay Horse, saddle, harness, Yankee sled and two nice shoats. Terms easy, and made known on day of sale. For further particulars of all these sales, see large posters.

FOR SALE.—A beautiful private residence situate in the Borough of Howard, Centre county, Pa., is offered at Public Sale on the 30th day of March 1871. Sale to commence at 1 o'clock p. m., of said day. The house is, of modern architecture, highly finished, large and commodious; containing five bed rooms, library, dining and drawing rooms, and summer and winter kitchens. In front a cost'y iron veranda, and in the rear an upper and lower porch, extending the entire length and width of the building. The grounds comprise two lots, with a front on Main St. of 90 feet about 16 feet in side alley, and a depth of 200 feet.

The outbuildings—stable, carriage house, laundry, wood, coal, ice and summer houses, are neat and substantial. The fruit trees are of the choicest varieties, comprising apple, cherry, peach, pear, plum and quince. In the yards are a number of different species of ornamental shade trees. The garden is good and beautiful, containing an arbor and covered with 12 varieties of grapes. Howard borough is a neat and thriving town, in the midst of an iron, lumber and agricultural region; is a station on the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad; and is healthful, with pure air and water, and is surrounded by beautiful mountains abounding with game, and crystal streams of water full of the beautiful speckled mountain trout. Immediate possession will be given. Some household and kitchen furniture will be sold at the same time, and place. For further particulars address Jos. R. Muffley, No. 506 Walnut Street Philadelphia. FURNITURE.—In another column of the REPUBLICAN will be seen the advertisement of John Brechbill, Esq., dealer in all kinds of furniture, wall paper, &c., We visited his store rooms on Spring St., on Saturday last, and were, we confess, astonished at the large and superior stock of furniture he has on hands.—We noticed one sett of walnut furniture which he offers for $275, which cannot be purchased for less than that price in Central Pennsylvania. He has chairs, rocking chairs, sofas, lounges, and other furniture in edless variety and exceedly cheap. Mr. Brechbill is a practical workman, a most excellent citizen, and one of our old resident dealers in furniture.

NEW GOODS.—The enterprising and ever-accommodating firm of Loeb, May & Loeb, have just received another invoice of new and splendid goods. The store is full, and on Saturday last it was almost impossible to pass the store in consequence of the immense quantity of well filled store boxes upon the pavement. This is a strong and reliable firm, and the fact that Col. May, the Senior partner, resides in Philadelphia, gives them advantages in the purchase of their goods, which few, if any other firms, possess. Call and see them.

SUCCESS.—Mr. A. B. Erhard, formerly chief clerk in the store of Messrs. Hoffer & Bro., is now, we are pleased to learn, traveling for D. H. Barrick & Co., Wholesale Druggists and dealers in Chemicals, Dyestuffs, Patent Medicines, Oils, Paints, Varnishes, Glassware, Ground Spices, &c., No. 70, North 4th St., Philadelphia. This is a good and reliable firm, and they showed their good judgment when they selected Mr. Erhart as their agent.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The Charleston Herald, S. C., says; a story is told in Oregon about a young man who proposed in a Sunday School that "a committee of young ladies and gentlemen be appointed to raise children for the Sabbath school." We think his head was level. The hint is a good one. We suggest the appointment of similar committees all over the country.

BUSINESS.—One would think, upon passing the store of the Messrs. Harper Bro's, on Spring Street, that they never had time either to eat or sleep. They are always busy, always waiting upon customers; always selling goods, and ever ready with a pleasant smile to invite their customers to call again.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the Brides Father, on the 1st day of March, by Rev. Dr. Gastrow, Mr. Simon Loeb of Bellefonte and Miss Leonora Frank of Philadelphia.

DIED.

In Union township, March the 13th 1871 Ann L. wife of Thomas Davis, aged sixty years eleven months and 29 days.

Dear mother your trials are o'er,
Your soul is at rest with your God,
Your spirit has taken its flight
To rest in the saviours abode.
No more on this earth can we meet
In union and friendship and love,
But in Heaven with Angels to greet
May we all as one family prove

I. F. D.

On the 8th inst., in Howard township, Mr. Thomas Lucas, aged 72 years.

He leaves seven children, and a number of grand children to mourn their loss; but not as those who have no hope. He was a christian.
